AN IMPORTANT SALE.

Slate Quarries at Monson Change Hands—Railway Prospects.

[Special to the Press.]

MONSON, Jan. 18.—On Saturday was consummated a very important sale which concerns a large amount of property in this place. There are in Monson five quarries, two of which have been owned by Salem and Boston parties, who are associated as the Monson Maine Slate Company. The other three have been owned by parties in Lowell, Mass. Between these companies there has lately been much litigation and unfriendly feeling. But this has all been settled now, by the Lowell parties selling out to the Monson Maine Slate Company. The trade includes three slate quarries,—the Hebron Pond, Monson Pond and Kineo,—eighty acres of land and twenty cottages in Monson village, 1500 acres of timber land and the Spectacle pond water power and the Lake Hebron Hotel. All the property transferred is worth about half a million dollars.

The most important feature of this sale is the impetus which it is expected to give to the project of a railroad line from Pittsfield to the Megantic line at Moosehead. The Monson Railroad has been intended to form a part of this proposed line; but the trouble of the slate companies involved the road in difficulties and attachments. These being settled, there is a feeling in Monson that the new line will be pushed through. From Pittsfield it has already gone to Hartland, and it is to be in Harmony soon. Should this line be completed it would give a direct line to Moosehead Lake much shorter for western people than the route by the Bangor and Piscataquis. As an outlet for the Canadian Pacific system it would also be important.

The Coming Grand Army Encampment.

[Special to the PRESS.]

AUGUSTA, Jan. 18.—The coming annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Bath is likely to witness a close contest for the office of Commander. Dick Gatley of Portland, and D. BANGOR, Jan. 18.—Mr. Frank Frost, an ice dealer, met with a severe accident tonight by a falling derrick at his ice house at Hampden. Fire at Belfast.

ON SHARK ROCK.

Probable Loss of the Schooner Chalcedony.

The Captain and Crew Saved.

[Special Despatch to the PRESS.]

PORT CLYDE, Jan. 18.—A fisherman who arrived at the harbor today reports the total loss of an unknown schooner on the Shark Rock, loaded with general merchandise, from some western port, probably either Portland or Boston. It was learned that the schooner was bound to Machias. The captain and crew are safe, they being on an island near the disaster. The Shark Rock is near the ledge where the Cambridge was wrecked, and about seven miles from this harbor.

[The schooner is in all probability the Chalcedony, Capt. Johnson, which sailed from this port for Machias last Thursday. She was seen in the afternoon of that day off Boothbay by the schooner Brilliant, Capt. Hooper, which has since arrived here. She was under full sail and deeply laden. She had a cargo of general merchandise valued at about $5,000. The drift stuff seen off Monhegan, marked W. D. A. and H. E. D., undoubtedly came from her, W. D. A. being the initials of W. D. Ames of Machias, to whom a part of the Chalcedony's cargo was consigned. She was a small schooner of 41.35 tons. S. W. Thaxter & Company owned half of her, and the other half was owned by Perry Ingle and others in Machias. She was valued at about $2,000 and insured in the Portland Lloyds. Her cargo was supplied by Cousens & Tomlinson, Shaw, Hammond & Carney, Deering, Milliken & Co., W. & C. R. Milliken, F. A. Waldron & Co., Howes, Hilton & Harris, Chas. McLaughlin & Co., Simonton & Randall, Conant, Patrick & Co., Twitchell, Champlin & Co., Woodbury & Latham, and Emery & Waterhouse.]

The Legislature Elects a United States Senator.

Lots of Manœuvres About the States Printing.

Some Sensible Plans Regarding Temperance Legislation.

Yesterday's Work in Various Committee Rooms.

Many Water Companies Coming Forward for Legislation.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Jan. 18.

Mr. Ricker of Waterboro to-day introduced a bill to incorporate the Limerick Loan and Trust Company. The incorporators are Samuel O. Clark, F. M. Higgins, W. W. Mason, C. H. Adams, E. E. Sadler, J. C. Lane, Asa Perkins and Jeremiah M. Mason of Limerick, and J. W. Dearborn and C. F. Sanborn of Parsonfields. The capital stock is to be $30,000, but may be increased to $100,000.

A bill presented to-day by Mr. Clark of Bangor would amend sec. 64 of chap. 6 of the Revised Statutes to read as follows:

"Every savings bank and institution for savings incorporated under the laws of the State shall semi-annually, on the last Saturday of April and October make a return signed and sworn to by its treasurer, of the average amount of its deposits for the six months preceding each of said days, deducting an amount equal to the amount of United States bonds and shares of corporation stock, such as are by law free from taxation to the stockholder, and the value of real estate, owned by said bank or institution."

York's Clerk of Courts.

Mr. Allen of Alfred to-day introduced a bill to establish the salary of the clerk of courts of York county at $1500 a year, and requiring him to turn in to the county treasury all fees in excess of this amount.

Pennell Institute.

The Pennell Institute of the town of Gray, by the will of the late Henry Pennell was devised to the town. Mr. Pennell also left in trust $3000, of which $3000 is to be appropriated for a library and $2000 for philosophical and chemical apparatus, and the balance, $25,000 is to be invested, to give an income for the support of the school. The will also provides that all residents of Gray, between 10 and 25 years shall be allowed to become pupils of the school free of expense. The only obligations imposed on the town, are to keep the building and other property insured and repaired. The school then will take the place of a free high school. To-day Mr. Sturgis of New Gloucester, introduced a bill to authorize the town to accept this magnificent bequest, and to appropriate for the support of Pennell Institute the sum could be expended for a free high school, and so much of the money apportioned to each district as shall seem to be proportionate to the benefits derived by that district from the Institute.

Senator Hale Re-Elected by the Legislature.

The vote in both Houses for United States Senator to-day was as follows: House—Eugene Hale, 114; W. E. Clifford, 26; Neal Dow, 1; absent, 10. Senate—Eugene Hale, 27; W. E. Clifford, 3; absent, 1.

The Age of Consent.

To-morrow Mr. Looney, at the request of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will introduce two bills making the amendment necessary to the statutes in order to raise the age at which may consent to her own ruin from ten to eighteen years. This bill will go to the legal affairs committee. Mr. Looney is of the opinion that the committee will not approve of an age so high as 18, but will be in favor of making it much higher than at present. There seems to be a general sentiment in favor of 14 years. Dr. Bashford and Mrs. Bashford of Portland, wish to be heard by the committee on this question sometime the latter part of this week; and very likely a hearing will be granted to them.

Water Companies.

The rapidity with which the towns and villages of this State are moving to put in water works is remarkable. Today there were no less than seven measures relating to water companies for seven different villages were introduced. At the present time there are before the Legislature bills to charter or petitions to charter or amend charters of water companies in all these places: Caribou, Bar Harbor, (two rival companies), York, Waterville, Belfast, (Somesville, Dover and Foxcroft, Presque Isle, Rockland and Camden, Hancock Point, Seal Harbor, and Southwest Harbor, on Mount Desert, Norway, Bucksport, and Waldoboro. At Bar Harbor the Mount Desert and Eden companies are before the Legislature, the later for incorporation. These companies are to pain in or have already put in works on various terms. Some are exempted from taxation for a term of years (as are many companies now operating) some pay taxes on water, and some may pay their taxes as other properties pay. So with these water companies it is probable that there may come an attempt to put on a State tax on this class of property. Mr. Allen's bill is a step in this direction; but it will undoubtedly be changed greatly before its passage is talked. The part of this bill that makes the State tax in lieu of of all other taxes receives much unfavorable comment from those who fear that the water companies may escape paying local taxes by a small tribute to the State; and those who are interested in water companies think it would be unfair to put a State tax on companies that are exempted from taxation for a term of years by the towns in which they are located.

Committee Work.

The finance committee voted "ought to pass" today on the bill giving $10,000 to the Maine General Hospital. On the matter of refunding the State debt there will be a hearing before the finance committee on Monday, Jan. 28.

The committee on military affairs voted today to recommend the passage of a bill to legalize the appropriation of money for erecting monuments on the field of Gettysburg.

The committee on interior waters have voted legislation inexpedient on the petition for permission to erect a wharf in Kennebunk river. The petition of Capt. Thomas for permission to run a steamboat line on Cardson lakes, in the Rangeley region, will come up for a hearing on Tuesday of next week. The committee voted "ought to pass" on a bill to allow improvement of the stream of Rapid river, in Franklin county.

The Judiciary committee voted 8 to 2 today, that the bill to allow each justice of the Supreme Court $600 a year for travelling expenses ought to pass, and it will be so reported. It also voted "ought to pass" on a bill to provide that the indexing of county records may be done under the direction of the register of deeds, the county commissioners to audit the bills; and on a bill relating to cases before Superior Courts. The committee also "killed" the medical registration bill, which came over from the last legislature. To-morrow was assigned for consideration of the proposition to change the time of holding State elections from September to November, but there is little prospect that the Judiciary Committee will recommend such a change. Mr. Manley is hostile to it, and so are several others.

The committee on education decided to-day to have a hearing on the question of abolishing the district system on next Tuesday, and on Tuesday, Feb. 1, there will be a hearing on the bill to establish a school commission, and a system of uniform text books. On the bill to change from 25 to 50 cents the limit of taxation allowed to towns for raising money for the support of libraries, the committee have decided to report favorably.

Temperance Legislation.

The committee on temperance have requested the county attorneys of Kennebec, Cumberland, Androscoggin and York to suggest what amendments in their judgment are necessary to render the enforcement of the present law more effective. The county attorneys have signified their intention of appearing at an early date. The public hearing before the temperance committee will probably come about the first Wednesday of February.

The State Printing.

The committee on State printing held a session this evening. Mr. G. H. Watkins was present for the firm of Brown Thurston & Co., of Portland, and Mr. Sprague represented the firm that now does the work. The committee adopted last year's contract, and allowed until tomorrow night for the presentation of bids.

In the matter of State printing, Mr. Gushee of Appleton has interested himself greatly. Today he got the Senate to pass an order directing the Secretary of State to furnish the terms of contracts for the State printing and binding for the years 1875-6 and 1885-6; and directing the State Treasurer to report the amount paid for State printing and binding during the last four years. Mr. Lumbert, of Aroostook, who also became interested in the question, had the scope of the inquiry extended to the year 1879 and '80, when, it will be remembered, the Democrats, or Fusionists, controlled the contracts.

Notes.

An act to amend the charter of the Waterville Water Company was introduced by Representative Heald this morning. The old charter provided for taking water from Snow pond. The amendment specifies the Messalonskee Stream instead, and includes Fairfield and Winslow with Waterville as the places to be supplied.

The committee on commerce have reported legislation inexpedient on an order referred from the last legislature relating to the expediency of allowing licensed vessels to seine mackerel within the waters of the State.

The Eden Water Company of Bar Harbor petition for the privilege to take water from Eagle Lake to supply the village of Bar Harbor.

The petition of S. L. Larrabee and others of Portland, introduced by Mr. Mr. Fogg, this morning, asks for a charter for a railroad of standard gauge for the transportation of passengers and freight from a point at or near Scarboro Beach station on the Boston & Maine Railroad, in Scarboro, to Prout's or Libby's Neck, in the same town, a distance of three or four miles.

Mr. Gushee this morning in the Senate had the bill relating to the increase of the capital stock of the Camden and Rockland Water Company laid on the table pending its second reading. The bill relating to this same company, and allowing it to extend its right of taking water to other ponds, which had been referred to the committee on judiciary, was called back and tabled on motion of Mr. Gushee.

Senator Allen of Knox called from the table today the House order to furnish a copy of the Revised Statutes to each member, and it was passed.

An Old Scandal Revived.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Jan. 18.—The Free Press will print tomorrow morning the full text of the letter written in July, 1864, by Gen. William F. Smith to the late Senator Foote, a small portion of which was published in the September number of the Century Magazine. In his letter Gen. Smith charges Gen. U. S. Grant with intoxication and the surreptitious procuring of liquor, and intimates that Grant relieved him (Smith) from the command of the 18th Corps to please Gen. Butler, and from fear that Butler would expose his (Grant's) intoxication.

Senator Hawley Re-elected.

HARTFORD, Ct., Jan. 18.—Both Houses of the Legislature elected Hawley to-day. The vote in the Senate was 12 for Hawley to 10 for Charles R. Ingersoll; in the House Hawley, 128; Ingersoll, 98; Baldwin, Knight of Labor, 1. There were two Republican absentees in the Senate because of delayed train, and 22 absentees from the House from delay of trains and other causes. They were about equally divided politically.

Voting for a United States Senator.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 18.—The Senate and House in separate sessions balloted for United States Senator to-day. In the Senate the vote stood, Charles B. Farewell, Republican, 32; Wm. R. Morrison, Democrat, 18; Benjamin Goodhue, 2. In the House the vote stood, Farewell, 78; Morrison, 61; Goodhue, 1; David McCulloch, Prohibitionist 1. The joint session will be held to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.

Mr. Randall's expected attempt to force his revenue reduction scheme before the House does not seem to materialize. In fact Mr. Randall has been for several days absent from the city, and for the present at least, seems to have abandoned his proposed motion. The number of his personal followers in his own party is so small that he cannot hope to accomplish anything without Republican aid. But while the Republicans were very glad to assist Mr. Randall in laying out Mr. Morrison, he finds it quite another thing when he attempts to bring them to his support in his endeavor to reform the revenue in accordance with his own views. Mr. Randall wishes to abolish the taxes on tobacco and whiskey but wants to let sugar severely alone. The Republicans want to reduce the tax on sugar but are not willing to vote to abolish the internal revenue taxes. Mr. Randall cannot therefore hope for much aid from the Republicans, and unless he changes his tactics and votes with Mr. Morrison to go into the committee of the whole to consider revenue, then running the risk of getting something which will be unsatisfactory to him, it is difficult to see how he can gain consideration at all. It is considered not impossible that he may do this.

A favorable report is expected to be made this week upon a bill introduced early in the session which allows each Senator and Representative who is not chairman of a committee, a clerk to be paid during the time actually employed while Congress is in session at the rate of $100 per month. The life of the average Congressman during the session of Congress is by no means one of ease. A trip to each of the departments in the interest of their constituents is a daily necessity with most of them. Those of prominence have two or three committee meetings to attend every week, at which they are expected to be on hand promptly. At 12 o'clock the House meets and they are expected to be in their seats ready to act their part in legislation. If they are prominent in debate their speeches must be written, or prepared, and the preparation of a speech on financial topics for instance, requires no small amount of research. Then to crown all, are their daily mails. Most men would consider it by no means a small day's work to attend to the mail received by the average Congressman in one day. They are the target for every person in their district who wants any information upon almost any subject under the sun, to say nothing of those who think they alone know just what Congress ought to do on this, that or the other subject, and who therefore overwhelm their "member" with gratuitous advice as to the course of action he should pursue. By far the greater part of the Congressmen are, comparatively speaking, poor men, living is expensive in Washington, and they cannot afford to employ a clerk and pay him from their own pockets, consequently they degenerate into mere errand boys for their constituents, their time being given to visits to the pension office and other departments, to answering their multitude of correspondents, and to sending out "pub. doc's" and garden seeds. The passage of the bill referred to would relieve them of all their work, for a clerk could attend to their mails, and to the greater part of the department errands, leaving the members free to attend to more important matters. There is, however, hardly a possibility that it will be passed, for the reason that most Congressmen fear the effect that their vote in favor of the bill would have upon their standing with their constituents. Plenty of them there are who say they wish it could be passed, and who will do all they can to secure its passage before it comes to a vote, but when the roll is called the fear of their constituents at home will keep them in the safe seclusion of the cloakrooms or committee rooms, out of hearing of the clerk's voice, if indeed it does not compel them to record their votes in the negative.

The Senate has for several years past given its members a clerk at government expense, and it has resulted to the advantage

THE PRESS.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 19.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or preserve communications that are not used.

It looks very much as if Warner Miller would succeed himself.

Perry Belmont's retaliation bill is said to be approved by the State Department. The cold weather has had an exceedingly bracing effect on Mr. Bayard.

Dr. McGlynn's parishioners are allowing their zeal in his behalf to get the better of their discretion. It has not yet appeared that he means to cut loose from the Catholic church, and unless that is his intention the proceedings of his over-zealous friends must prove very embarrassing to him.

Now that Gen. Hazen is dead another effort will be made to divorce the weather bureau from the war department. That is a good idea, but what the public are clamoring for at present is to have somebody at its head who will not run it entirely in the interest of cold waves.

Since the second term bee has begun to buzz in the President's hat he is much more cordial to the Democratic magnates than he used to be. Now when they come to the White House he invites them in. Formerly one would judge from their complaints he heard what they had to say on the door step.

The first ballot for Senator in the Massachusetts Legislature yesterday must have been a surprise to all the candidates except Gen. Collins, who had reason to expect the full Democratic vote and got it. The inference from the anxiety of Gov. Long's friends for a caucus was that he could control it, or at least could lead the other candidates. But in the legislature he falls considerably behind Mr. Dawes and is only ten ahead of ex-Gov. Robinson, who is not actively a candidate. No one of the Republican candidates, however, comes within gunshot of the number required to elect. A long and tedious contest seems to be inevitable.

Our esteemed Lewiston contemporary has experienced a rude awakening. For several months past it has been vigorously pursuing the rum fiend in Portland and Cape Elizabeth in blissful ignorance apparently of the fact that the fiend was domiciled right under its own nose. Monday a man was jostled by the crowd in the Lewiston court house, pursued into the street and finally assaulted and beaten because he had testified against a rum seller. The scales have now fallen from our contemporary's eyes and it calls lustily for an old fashioned temperance revival. It is to be hoped it will continue to shout until it gets one.

The Hon. Simon S. Brown and several other members of the Democratic State Committee were in the city last night and in consultation. Precisely what they were up to we cannot say. The ex-chairman was non-communicative. There is no political campaign for two years so the meeting could not have related to that. The probability is that a raid on some fourth-class post office up in the county is contemplated and the great men were called together to consult about it. This view gets strong support from the fact that during the evening the Hon. W. H. Clifford, who has been very successful in gobbling up small offices for his friends, was called in. We expect to hear soon that Mr. Brown and Mr. Clifford have gone to Washington.

If the Indiana Democrats had a particle of gratitude in their composition they would not have passed over the able and distinguished men of their party and nominated David Turpie for the Senatorship. Turpie may be a great man, but his fame has not extended beyond the borders of his State, and if his influence had been the only reliance of the hungry and thirsty Hoosiers, they never would have got so many postoffices and collectorships. The men who have borne the burden and heat of the day are Joe McDonald and Objector Holman. These men had deserved well of their fellow Hoosiers, and it was upon one of them that the Senatorial mantle should have fallen. But this is not the first evidence of the ingratefulness of the Indiana Democracy. The Democrats of no State in the Union have got a liberal share of the spoils, and yet the Democrats of no state have so vigorously cursed the President.

Representative Fogg presented in the House yesterday a resolve looking to the submission to the people of an amendment to the constitution conferring on women the right of suffrage in this State. It would seem that this was so reasonable and just a proposition that no objection would be urged against it. Ours is a republican form of government in which the will of the people is supreme, and this is simply a proposition to discover in the most practical manner what the will of the people is as regards this particular question. Mr. Fogg's resolution is supported by a large number of citizens of Maine, who ask that it may be adopted. For the Legislature to refuse would, it seems to us, amount to an assertion on their part that they are superior to the people and that they have a right to decide for the people what the people want to decide for themselves. This woman's suffrage movement is not a craze or a sudden freak of a lot of cranks, but is the result of a deep seated conviction on the part of many of the most intelligent people in the community that women should have a voice in making the laws which they are compelled to obey, and in spending the money which they are compelled to contribute.

Mr. Belmont's Bill.

Mr. Belmont's bill empowering the President to retaliate in case Canadian persecution of our vessels is continued, is an exceedingly drastic measure. It not only authorizes the President to refuse to Canadian vessels privileges in our ports which are denied our vessels in the ports of the Dominion, but what would be vastly more far-reaching in its consequences, it empowers him to stop trains on Canadian railroads at the Canadian border and to refuse them entrance into this country. Practically it enables him by a stroke of his pen to cut off all commercial intercourse between this country and the Dominion.

It is a pretty radical remedy which this bill proposes, and one which could not be applied without causing a good deal of inconvenience to some sections of the United States. Portland certainly would be a severe sufferer if Canadian railroads could not run their cars across the border. But the effect of such an embargo as Mr. Belmont proposes would be so disastrous to Canadian interests, especially to their great lines of railroads, which without the privilege of running their trains into the United States would be practically paralyzed, that it is hardly possible that the intolerant spirit which the Canadians are now exhibiting would manifest itself in action after the issuance of the President's proclamation. The Canadians do not sufficiently appreciate the privileges which they are securing from the United States. In the face of our general policy that the commerce between our States shall be kept in the hands of our citizens and our home corporations Canadian railroads are allowed to participate in it on equal terms with our own roads. From this traffic some of the Canadian lines, notably the Grand Trunk, derive a great portion of their revenues. A threat to deprive them of these privileges will, no doubt, awaken the Canadians to a realizing sense of their value, and speedily convince them that the United States has it in its power to inflict upon them damage immeasurably greater than results to us from the petty and spiteful persecutions of American fishing vessels along their Atlantic coast. Our government has been exceedingly forbearing in regard to what Secretary Manning in his recent letter to Congress properly characterized as the "brutal exclusion of American fishing vessels from Canadian ports." We have put up with it a year without retaliation. We have had recourse to diplomacy to settle the dispute on some fair and equitable basis. Yet a settlement seems as far off as ever. The Canadian government is buying new cruisers to pursue and harass our vessels, and constructing new acts to make their seizure and condemnation more speedy and effective. The only recourse left us, unless we are to sit supinely by and allow the performance of last summer to be repeated, is to adopt some such measure as this proposed by Mr. Belmont. That will speedily bring the Canadians to their senses.

CURRENT COMMENT.

GROWING LAVISH IN HIS OLD AGE.
Chicago Mail.

The awful rumor that William H. English has sent a necktie to each member of the Indiana Legislature is important if true. The old man is not wont to squander wealth in this way; but the neckties may have been a job lot, cheap for cash.

THE GARDEN SEED SENATOR.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

There is much talk about the use of money in the pending Senatorial elections; but certainly no charge of that kind can be made against Missouri. She points with pride to the fact that she is about to elect Mr. Cockrell for a third time solely on account of his service in the Confederate army and his unflagging industry in the dissemination of garden seeds.

A RUM CURSED CITY.
Lewiston Journal.

The ruffianly attack on a witness in a liquor case, made at the Maine Central station in Lewiston, on Saturday, is another symptom of the growth of the liquor power in this city. It is high time that some law and order movement took a grip of the situation and that something be done to prevent the escape of the guilty. It will be strange if such a dastardly outrage can be perpetrated in open day in a Maine city and the guilty man escape. If something were needed to arouse the friends of temperance and order to a conscious sense of the peril to which the material and moral prosperity of our city is exposed, it would seem that bulldozing deed of amazing impudence ought to be that awakener. We want to see an old fashioned temperance movement in this city that shall arouse the public conscience and prosecute that moral and that legal suasion which together the rum power in the past has resisted in vain.

SACCHARIN.

An Alleged Wonderful Substitute for Sugar.

New York Evening Post.

A company has lately been formed in London and Antwerp for the manufacture of saccharin, the newly discovered substitute for sugar, and before long, if the claims made for it are established, it will undoubtedly cause a vast stir in the sugar industry. Saccharin, which is technically known as anhydrous-orthosulphamine benzoic acid, was discovered about seven years ago by Dr. Constantine Fahlberg, a German-American of this city. Like a great many other important discoveries in the chemical line, its discovery was accidental, and in a talk of Dr. Fahlbergh with Mr. Lassing, the editor of the American Analyst, he said in relation to it: "I had been working for some time upon the compound radicals and substitution products of coal tar, and had made a number of discoveries which were, as far as I know, of little commercial value. I had been working for some time in my laboratory one evening, and was so much interested in my work that I rushed off to supper without washing my hands. During the progress of the meal I inadvertently got a taste of an exceedingly sweet substance on my thumb, and it flashed across me that I had made something from the coal tar which was far sweeter than sugar. I ran back to my laboratory and proceeded to taste everything I had been working upon. I soon found the beaker which contained an impure solution of saccharin. I began to work upon this, determined its chemical composition and characteristics, and set about finding out the best method of making this commercially. This has been successful to a certain extent, and a company has been formed to proceed with the manufacture of this substance.

"I now feel that I am in a position to say that the manufacture of this new substance will be the foundation of a very extensive branch of industry. It has been established that saccharin possesses, besides a very high degree of sweetness, other valuable properties which do not belong to cane sugar, and a very large field has been opened for it. There are a great many extensive manufactories of glucose, or starch sugar, in this country, and this substance is used to a great extent in replacing sugar; but, owing to its being so much less sweet than cane sugar, it cannot be used to replace the cane sugar entirely. By using a very small proportion of saccharin with this glucose, it is made as sweet as the cane sugar, and thus its use is facilitated greatly. In fact, only one or two parts of saccharin mixed with 1,000 parts of glucose will bring the the glucose up to the standard of cane sugar in sweetness.

"The cost of manufacturing it is a slight drawback at present, and with our present facilities it cannot be sold for less than from $10 to $12 per pound; but before long I expect to see this price very materially reduced. Even with the present price, a mixture of glucose and saccharin with all the sweetening powers of cane sugar could be made at much less cost than the latter. The use of a compound of glucose and saccharin is not injurious in any way. Although it may not be used to replace sugar in every instance, it will do so in a great many cases. It is certainly bound to replace it where it is used as a flavor, and bakers, confectioners, candy makers, distillers, and others will use it largely, as it will answer the same purpose as cane sugar, and at a much less cost. Glucose is now used largely in the manufactures, and when it is made as sweet as cane sugar by the use of saccharin, its use will be more general. It is not a food, and consequently where sugar is used for that purpose, it will not replace the sugar.

"Saccharin is derived from the hydro-carbons of the benzol series, and these products exist in good quantities, so that the source of saccharin is not liable to become scarce, and thus raise the price of it. Saccharine crystalizes in short, thick prisms, small and badly defined. It is soluble in cold water, but much more so in hot water, but from this solution can be readily obtained in a crystalline form. Grape sugar or glucose when warm easily dissolves it. It is so sweet that a teaspoonful converts a barrel of water into syrup. Taken internally, it does not undergo any change and is in no way injurious to animal organism. It does not ferment, like cane or grape sugar, as it is a derivative of benzoic acid. It possesses great antiseptic properties which render it useful in a great many cases. Its marked sweetness is such that used in very small quantities it will cover up and disguise the flavor of the most bitter medicines, and at the same time not interfere with the action of the drug in any way. Salts of saccharin are formed without difficulty, but do not crystallize readily, and in all cases they are nearly as sweet as the saccharin itself. Their properties are about the same as those of saccharin."

Many of the chemists of this city are interested in this subject, and the opinion is general that the saccharin is a very valuable article. Its use, it is believed, is certain to be general, and in time it will replace cane sugar to a very large extent. The field for its use in this country seems to be great, and the inventor claims that it will revolutionize the sugar industry. At the present abnormally low price of sugar, it is almost impossible for the sugar planters to make any money, and the refiners are in many cases working at a loss. If this new substance comes into general use the consumption of sugar will be much smaller, and sugar raising in this country is liable to be very seriously affected. It has already been hard pressed by the manufacture of beet-root sugar. In Europe the price of sugar is so low at present that other uses for it are seriously discussed, and the use of it for top-dressing on land is urged and in some cases adopted. The cost of the manufacture of saccharin is now said to be the only drawback to its success, and, as in the case of other valuable coal-tar products, a much cheaper mode of manufacture will no doubt be devised.

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.

There is a story extant to the effect that the Hon. Benjamin Harris Brewster loves a grate fire but hates black coal, and accordingly has his servant whitewash the coal before it is brought into his room.

The injury sustained by George W. Childs in his recent fall is more serious than was at first supposed. He cannot sit up in bed on account of the pain in his spine, but is obliged to lie flat on his back all the time.

It has come to light only recently that when the government offered the frigate Constellation to convey food to the starving people in Ireland, Levi P. Morton, then in Congress, wrote to the New York Herald, offering to supply one-quarter of the cargo, but asking that his name be reserved from publication. This generous offer stimulated the charity of New York, and the entire cargo of the frigate was pledged in a single day.

A recent visitor to ex-Vice President Wheeler at his home in Malone found him busy with his correspondence. He was cheerful, cordial and vigorous in conversation. His health is seriously impaired, but not so as to prostrate him or confine him to his house. That he is kept in seclusion by his relatives or that he is constantly under the influence of opium is entirely false and groundless. Mr. Wheeler has survived his parents, brothers, sisters and wife, and now lives alone, childless and without a near relative in the world, and these bereavements have, of course, saddened him, but they have not broken him.

The real grief beneath the actor's mask of mirth, which is so common and yet so pathetic, has just fallen upon Denman Thompson, whose Joshua Whitcomb is known and loved wherever New England people dwell. While he was presenting his new play in New York Monday night for the first time, a despatch told him of the death of a little grandchild, who has travelled with him a great deal, but who has been for some weeks ill at her father's home in Philadelphia. The New York papers of Tuesday recorded a particularly brilliant and successful performance, but, as Thompson says, "the audience never knew what that night's work cost me."

SPECTACLES. EYE GLASSES.

We have a large assortment and are prepared to adjust the same upon scientific principles. We use NACHET'S TRIAL CASE, together with the OPTHALMOSCOPIC TEST LENSE, combining the best methods known for detecting all optical defects of the eye and determining the lenses needed for their correction.

These lines should all appear equally black to a normal eye. Persons to whom the above lines do not appear equally black at five or ten feet, have a visual imperfection which common spectacles will not improve. They must have special lenses ground to correct the deformity of the corneas. This defect is called ASTIGMATISM.

BABY'S SKIN

Infantile and Birth Humors Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

For cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Birth Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scald Head, Scrofula, and other inherited Skin and Blood Diseases, CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally are infallible. Absolutely pure.

MY OLDEST CHILD,

Now six years of age, when an infant six months old, was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. The physician did not know them, and does not know now, what it was. Finally we were advised to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. Without the knowledge of our physician, I procured a box of CUTICURA and a cake of CUTICURA SOAP. The effect

WAS SIMPLY MARVELOUS,

Using the two together, first washing him thoroughly with CUTICURA SOAP, then anointing him with CUTICURA, a complete and permanent cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a Strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred. You are welcome to make any use of this you may deem best.

It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. VIRTUE IN BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

There is more virtue in one BRANDRETH PILL than in a bottle of the best Sarsaparilla. The solid extract of Sarsaparilla contained in BRANDRETH'S PILLS in combination with other Vegetable Extracts, makes them the strongest blood purifier known. One or two at night for a week will remove all pimples and eruptions of the skin, and make the complexion fair as an infant.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Stephen L. Purinton vs. the Maine Central Railroad Company. The plaintiff's load of furniture got stuck on the defendants' track at a crossing in Deering and a freight train ran against it, knocking it to pieces. The plaintiff claimed that the carelessness and negligence of the engineer, and particularly the gate tender at the crossing, caused the accident. The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $132.47. The following is the Rescript.—It is the opinion of the Court that the verdict in this case is not so clearly against the weight of evidence as to require the Court to set it aside and grant a new trial. Motion overruled. Judgment on the verdict.

Joseph H. Poor vs. William Beatty et als.

Rescript by Walton, J.—Justices to hear a poor debtor's disclosure can not be selected on Fast day. The disclosure in this case having been had before justices selected on Fast day, in the absence of the creditor, it constitutes no defence to an action on the bond; and the plaintiff is entitled to judgment for the amount of his execution, costs and fees of service, with interest, as provided in Revised Statutes, chap. 113, sec. 40. Judgment for plaintiff; damages to be assessed at nisi prius.

John L. Winship vs. Portland League Base Ball and Athletic Association.

Rescript by Walton, J.—The defendants contracted with the plaintiff for his services for six months, and the discharge of him at the end of three months for no other reason than because he would not consent to a reduction of his compensation, was a breach of their contract, and entitles the plaintiff to damages. A default is to be entered, and the damages assessed at nisi prius, as agreed in the report.

Israel Leavitt vs. Inhabitants of School District No. 19 in Harpswell.

Rescript by Walton, J.—If, pending a real action for the recovery of land, the title to the land and the right of possession pass from the plaintiff and become vested in the defendant, this fact may be pleaded in bar of the further maintenance of the suit; and if, upon this plea, the defendant prevails, he will be entitled to recover his costs incurred after the filing of the plea, and the plaintiff will be entitled to his costs incurred before the filing of the plea. Such must be the judgment in this case.

Judgment for the defendants that the action be no further prosecuted.

At 8 o'clock Grimmer's orchestra opened the entertainment. The vocal music by Miss Bartlett and Mrs Morrison, was as good as is always to be expected when these ladies have numbers on a programme. The selections by the Apollo Mandolin and Guitar Club, Miss Grace Hall's violin solos, Mr. J. M. Jacobson's piccolo solo and the xylophon solo by Mr. Chas. F. Jones were delightfully rendered, while the readings by Mrs. O. P. Greene formed a pleasing feature of the entertainment. Encores were numerous during the rendition of the programme at the conclusion of which, the lovers of dancing enjoyed an order of eight dances.

The committee of arrangements was composed of P. C., John E. Green, P. C., Edward C. Reynolds, Charles W. Starbird, John E. Ross, C. C. Frank H. Verrill, K. of R. and S., John E. Warren, Wm. H. ### Maine Eye and Ear Infirmary.

The opening of the Maine Eye and Ear Infirmary occurred last evening, and a large number of members with their friends were present. The object of the infirmary is to secure proper medical treatment for diseases of the eye and ear to those unable to pay for such services. The buildings are admirably adapted to the purpose for which they are intended. On the first floor of the main building are the large reception and operating rooms for the daily clinic. They will accommodate quite a large audience, and it is proposed to have a course of lectures given in them this season for the benefit of the Infirmary. Opposite these rooms are the parlor and sitting room, and beyond is the kitchen, dining room, laundry and sleeping rooms. There are twenty-two rooms in all, with both hot and cold water appointments. The heating, ventilating and plumbing arrangements are the best possible, and everything has been done that can be done for the comfort of patients. The work that the institution has already done predicts unexpected success. ### The Surrender of Lee.

Major H. S. Melcher told the story of the closing days of the rebellion in an exceedingly interesting manner to a large and well pleased audience last evening, the lecture being one of the course given by the Mechanics' Association. Major Melcher's position on the staff of Gen. Griffin, in command of the Fifth Army Corps, gave him an excellent opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the events transpiring after the fall of Petersburg and Richmond, and culminating in the surrender at Appomattox. Of many of the engagements and movements described, Major Melcher was an eye witness. The lecture was supplementary to the one delivered by Major Melcher last year on the battle of Five Forks. Starting with the evacuation of Richmond and Petersburg, the lecturer, who spoke without notes, traced by means of maps drawn upon the blackboard, the flight of Lee and the movements of the Army of the Potomac, preventing the Confederate chieftain's purpose of forming a union with Johnston's army, and finally bringing him to a stand at Appomattox. The speaker's description of the surrender and the advance just previously made upon the Confederate army was graphic and faithful.

PORTLAND AND OGDENSBURG.

Annual Meeting of the Two Corporations.

Report of the Receiver and Election of Directors.

The annual meeting of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad Company was held at the office of the company, on Commercial street, at 10 a. m. yesterday. President S. J. Anderson called the meeting to order, Mayor Chapman and Messrs. Richardson, Milliken, Corser and Amsden being present. Other stockholders were represented by proxies. Mayor Chapman offered the following:

Voted, That the president be, and hereby is, authorized to execute and deliver in the name and behalf of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad Company, a deed releasing and conveying all the right, title and interests of this corporation in and to the corporate property, real and personal, of every kind and description, to the Portland and Ogdensburg Railway, and that said deed be substantially in the form herewith submitted.

A stock vote was taken, Messrs. Milliken, Richardson and Corser being the committee to count the votes. It appeared that 21 stockholders had either voted in person or by proxy, representing 7367 shares. The vote offered by Mayor Chapman was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Mayor Chapman the choice of directors was passed by and the old board will hold over until their successors are chosen.

The meeting of the old corporation was then adjourned.

President Anderson called to order the meeting of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railway, the new corporation. The first annual report of the president and directors, as printed, is accompanied by the decree of foreclosure, final order of the court, and acts of the Maine and New Hampshire Legislatures, by which the bondholders secured by the mortgage of 1871 were authorized to form a new corporation, and the by-laws adopted at their first meeting, June 8, 1886.

RECEIVER'S REPORT.

The receiver's report gives an extract from the engineer's report of the improvements on road bed, track, etc., the past year. From it we learn that there have been 23,293 new cross ties put into the track. There are now on hand about 10,000 ready for use; there will be required for another year about 15,000 more of cedar. There have been about seven miles of barbed wire fence erected. There have been some 750 cubic yards of solid masonry built at an expense of less than $4 per yard.

By the substitution of permanent work of construction, solid embankment and substantial masonry, the original length of bridging of your road has been decreased 7,467 linear feet, or nearly a mile and a half; while the length of the iron bridging, erected in place of decaying wooden structures, has been 1825 linear feet, and with that originally built, now aggregates 3194 linear feet, or more than sixty per cent. of all the bridging, over openings of twenty feet and upwards, yet remaining upon the whole line."

The equipment of the road consists of 15 locomotives, 25 passenger, baggage and observation cars, 104 box freight cars, 48 platform cars, 20 four-wheeled dump cars, 9 vans, 1 crane car, 1 tool car, 3 snow plows, 1 steam excavator.

In making comparison of the gross earnings of the road for the past year with those of the year ending Sept. 30, 1885, it must be borne in mind that, under the contract with the B., C. & M. R. R. Co. which, by its terms, extended to the 3d day of June, 1885, but which, by agreement, really terminated on the 31 day of May, 1885, the charges for all through business, both freight and passenger, belonging to this road and passing either way, between Scott's Mills and Fabyans were paid to the P. & O. R. R. Co.; the latter company running its own trains over that section of road and paying train mileage to the B., C. & M. R. R. Co. for such use of their track. So that for seven months of the previous year the sum of the gross earnings was increased by the pro rata proportion of the through rate charged for such business coming over that 22 miles of additional track. The passenger and freight mileage tables are subject to the same qualifications.

Respectfully submitted,
SAM. J. ANDERSON, Receiver.

Benjamin F. Andrews, Esq., has been appointed a United States Deputy Marshal by Marshal Harmon. Mr. Andrews will fill Deputy Marshal Johnson's place while that gentleman is confined by illness, but the appointment is permanent.

Mr. Joseph Sewall, youngest son of the late Hon. Geo. P. Sewall, died Sunday at Oldtown, at the age of thirty-two years. He was a civil engineer, and had entered upon a useful and honorable life. Mr. Sewall had been deputy sheriff of Penobscot county, a position which he filled with much acceptance. He was a quiet man and possessed many fine qualities which made him esteemed by all who knew him. He was a graduate of Bowdoin College.

A brilliant wedding took place at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning, the contracting parties being Mr. James Miles Mulhern and Miss Annie Louise Kehoe of this city. The bride's brother and sister acted as groomsman and bridesmaid, respectively. Rev. M. J. McDonough, chancellor of the cathedral, officiated. A nuptial mass was celebrated, followed by a breakfast at the bride's father's. The presents were elegant and numerous.

Neal Dow pays Gov. Bodwell the following high compliment: "Governor Bodwell is thoroughly a temperance man and a prohibitionist. He is in no sense an office seeker nor a political hack nor a demagogue. He is one of the type of men who make a community prosperous and the people sober, industrious, thrifty and happy. From a very humble origin, by his industry, frugality, good judgment, honesty and perseverance, he has won for himself an honorable position among the foremost men of the State, and his large fortune is all the product of his industry, no dollar of it representing the losses of other people. The office which he holds was not sought by him."

The fifth entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. course will be given at City Hall Thursday and will consist of a finely illustrated lecture on "Reunited Germany and Heroic Louise," by Mr. C. E. Bolton of Cleveland, Ohio. The Boston Herald says that Union Hall was packed to the doors at a recent lecture by Mr. Bolton. Reserved seats are on sale at Stockbridge's.

The total amount which will be expended by the town of Westbrook for the current year will not be far from $70,000. A large portion of the amount is for building school houses, and the advantages of education.

Thus far the expense of breaking out roads and removing snow, in this village, has not exceeded the average of former years.

Parties operating in the woods report two feet of snow on the level.

The point for locating the new bridge across the river, between the two villages, will be near Mr. B. F. Roberts' house on the "flat." It is agreed by nearly all parties interested in the project that the largest number of inhabitants will be accommodated thereby.
